Summary

I began writing about bitcoin circa 2019, but in 2022, I began writing about it approximately once a week. Now I write about freedom tech as a way to test interesting tools that use the Bitcoin Lightning Network.

I also contribute to free and open source software where I can.

I write about freedom tech like using bitcoin over the lightning network and nostr. I wrote a post just about every week for three years. I am currently working on a video series that teaches people how to use Bitcoin as p2p cash.

I began using the lightning network in 2019 and write about using Bitcoin for payments in the real world and cyberspace.
